Dear Sir or Madam,

On behalf of the Organizing Committee of the National Science Week of China, we would like to extend an invitation for you to attend the 2019 National Science Week of China - Belt and Road International Science Platform.

The Chinese government has organized the National Science Week since 2001. Beijing Science Festival, as its most important element, welcomes science popularization practitioners from around the world every year to present diversified exhibitions and activities. In accordance with the Belt and Road Initiative of China, the 2019 Beijing Science Festival aims to build a platform for all science festival organizers, science educators and researchers, facilitating communication with the Chinese public and promoting international exchange and cooperation between Chinese institutes and its counterparts.

The 2019 National Science Week of China will be held in the third week of May in Beijing. We hope you could bring exhibitions or science programs to the National Science Week. The suggested requirements are as follows.

(1) Science Interactive Exhibitions or Programs. The target audience of the National Science Week is teenagers aging from 8 to 16 years old. This year the organizer focuses on the interaction with the audience. We advise you bring exhibitions and programs demonstrating the highest achievements and cutting-edge science education ideas of your institute. Please note that the exhibition area is no more than 200 sq meters.

(2) Science Seminar. You are welcome to bring lectures and speeches on your experiences in science-popularization and organization of science festivals, to facilitate communication between Chinese and international professionals.

We firmly believe that your participation will make a substantial contribution to the 2019 National Science Week. The National Week of China will be an excellent opportunity to demonstrate the achievements of your institute and communicate with the best science education institutes in the world.

Please be advised that the size of your team should be no more than 5 members. The organizer shall cover all members' international round-trip air tickets, lodging, and necessary expenses for the exhibition and seminar. During the National Science Week, the organizer will arrange interpreters and volunteers to assist you during exhibition and seminar for better communication with the audience. After the National Science Week, the organizer will grant a national certificate to your institute appreciating your participation and contribution.
